On parle le français où? (Where do they speak French?)

Research the countries where French is spoken. You can use books or the internet.

Can you find these French speaking countries in an atlas? If you don't have a paper atlas at home, you can use google maps.

Make a fact file of 5 French speaking countries. Try to include the continent in which the country is located, any other languages spoken as well as French, and one or two interesting facts about the country. It is up to you how you choose to present your fact file. You may choose to create a table on your tablet or computer, or make a paper version.
